VOLUME X

Ever familiar, but ever new, is our Marine Deck, which plays popular host to many Terracers from May to November.

Our cover photo this month, taken by F. S. Lincoln, is dedicated to the pleasant and relaxing hours spent on our rooftop under the sun or stars.

Warm Weather Chess

The Chess Club, in the post tournament season, continues to draw sufficient attendance to remain open during the hot weather, despite vacations, war work, etc. Simultaneous games seem to be the most popular form of play just now, with one of the star players like Mark Peckar or Dave Hoffmann taking on all comers. By giving odds to the less skillful contestants, interesting games and much excitement result. Popular Jerry Barry is away for the summer and greatly missed. He was unable to defend his championship this year because of ill health, but it is hoped he will be back in September, fully recovered, in time for the election of new officers.

There was no Class C tournament this year because of the dearth of players in the lowest class—they improve so fast and move into the higher brackets. This is an opportunity for those just beginning to play, and recruits will be warmly welcomed and have access to the Club's library, which includes the current chess magazines as well as many books.

The Penthouse is delightfully cool, even with the blinds down because of the dim-out. The view, of course, is limited, but do chess addicts notice views? Or only the long view?

Apology

Due to an oversight, an important contribution to the Jamboree camp fund was not acknowledged in the NEWS or Jamboree program. This was the sum of $15.00 contributed by the Chess Club to swell the total used to send neighborhood children to summer camps.

Apologies are hereby offered and thanks extended to Chess Club members from Chelsea Charities.

FIRE MENACE

This is serious. On at least two reported occasions within a week's time recently, lighted cigarets thrown out of apartment windows have started fires. One was in a baby carriage standing on the Tenth Avenue sidewalk. The other was in an upholstered chair near an open window. In both cases the cigarets were thrown from above to land on their unintentional targets. A moment's heedlessness in disposing of a cigaret stub may cause great damage, or even tragedy. Let's stop it at once.

Air Program

If you want to see London Terrace as others see it—or “hear” it is the more proper word in this case—you can tune in on WQXR in the morning to listen to “Apartments on Parade.” Particularly on Sunday mornings at 10:30 you’re apt to find yourself listening to an interview with your next door neighbor.

The program, conducted by Charlotte Demorest, has been going successfully for some time now and is doing a nice job of publicity for the Terrace. Miss Demorest, in weeks past, has had on the program David Millar, on the air raid warden service; Mrs. Flora K. Howes, on the Camera Club; Mrs. Minna Westerfield, on the Penthouse Club; Mrs. Warner Searle Hayes, on the penthouse gardens; Mrs. Sheffield A. Arnold, on the Jamboree and Chelsea Charities; Mrs. Julian R. Quinn and Mrs. Horace G. Banker, on Chelsea Charities; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bjornson Berg, on the Swimming Pool; and Mrs. Warner Overton, on the newly-opened Recreation Center for service men. Others who have been guests have included Miss T. Forester, Miss Ruth Bieber, Mrs. Ethel Nugent, William J. Demorest, W. A. Lockwood and Dan Crawford.

The hit of the programs so far, says Miss Demorest, has been Miss Theodora Carroll, aged five, who appeared with Mrs. Nugent. Theodora was born in China and has been in this country only six months, and she was the only one with whom Miss Demorest says she dared “ad lib.”

So listen in to WQXR some time and learn what’s going on at our house.

The People’s Choice

A LONDON Terrace Independent Lockwood for Congress Committee has been formed with headquarters in the 420 Building on 24th Street in Apartment 3-D where a steady stream of Democrats, Independents, and Republicans have been beating a path to volunteer all-out support for the popular manager of London Terrace in his quest for a seat in the United States House of Representatives.

Robert A. Hickey of 425 is acting as chairman of this committee with Mrs. Lucille Overton of 465 as co-chairman, Hampton Hoke of 410 as the busy treasurer and William G. Harz of 465 as secretary.

The immediate response to Mr. Lockwood’s announcement of his candidacy for Congress has been to turn London Terrace into a gigantic committee of the whole to make the vote of the Terrace a testimonial in celebration of the anniversary of a decade of service to the people of London Terrace. Dollar bills in an ever increasing volume have been rolling into the treasurer to assure the success of this tribute.

Walter A. Lockwood

Walter L. Whitney of 433 West Twenty-first Street has been selected by Mr. Lockwood as his personal campaign manager and is busy organizing the entire 15th Congressional District for what bids fair to be the hottest Congressional campaign this district has ever experienced.

Good luck to you, Walter—London Terrace is with you 100% strong!

Swim Gals Go Outdoors

THE sprightly, speedy gals of the Women’s Swimming Association of New York take to the out of doors in the summer season, deserting their habitat in our Pool for various competitions around this country and in Canada.

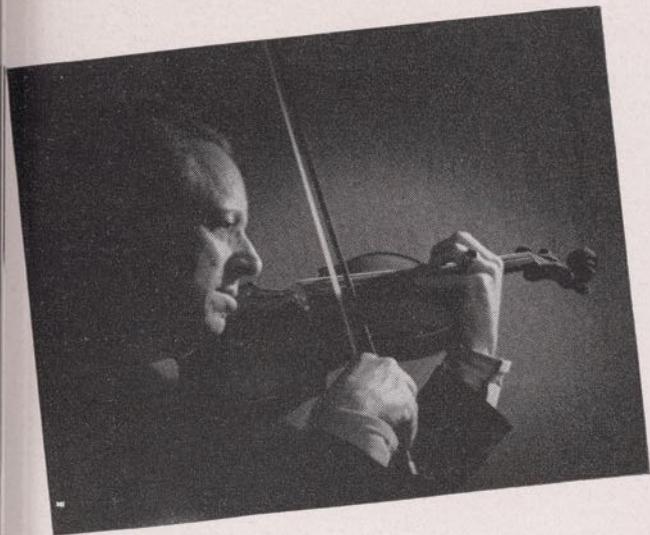

The summer season started off with a bang at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club, Scarborough, N. Y., where a championship meet was held, the proceeds going to Army Emergency Relief. Over a thousand dollars clinked into the coffers, making the W. S. A. feel pretty good about helping out in a worthy cause. W. S. A.

members Gloria Callen and Alice Crozier took first places in the Metropolitan Backstroke championships and Junior Metropolitan Freestyle championships respectively.

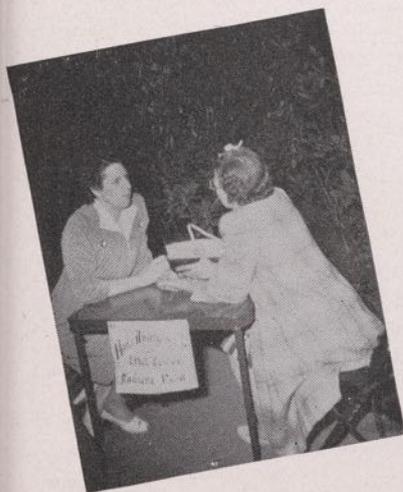

On July 11 the girls went on to Bear Mountain State Park, where Marilyn Sahner, national 100 yards Freestyle champion, beat off all comers in defense of her 110 yards Freestyle Metropolitan District championship. Dorothy Williams added to W. S. A. laurels by winning the Junior Metropolitan 10-foot diving championship.

Camera Club Lens Work

Camera Club members are turning out a lot of interesting prints these days. Shown here are a few selections which won prizes in recent contests. The large reproductions are winners in the Club contest which was held in June. Top left took first prize in the Portrait Group. It's called "Concertmeister" and was submitted by Flora K. Howes. Top right is the winner in the Miscellaneous Group — a print titled "Lobsterman's Shack," taken by Simon Goldsmith. Third prize also went to Mr. Goldsmith for the picture at the right, titled "New England Coast." The three pictures at the bottom of the page are the winners in the Club contest for snapshots taken at the Chelsea Jamboree. In the center is first prize, "The Makin's," taken by Flora K. Howes. At left is William W. Bailey's second prize print, and at the right is another Bailey entry which took third prize.

The Kids Went to Camp

BACK in June we had a Jamboree, remember? The echoes of the Jamboree are still resounding for some two hundred neighborhood kids who were sent to summer camps on the proceeds. Mrs. Ethel Nugent, social service director for Chelsea Charities, resident organization sponsoring the Jamboree, has heard from many of the children who are enjoying a rare treat in the out of doors because of the generosity of Terrace residents. We reprint below several of the cards received. They're typical and we thought you'd enjoy hearing from the boys and girls.

Dear Miss Nugent

I am have a good time. I am sorry that I haven't wrote sooner. I am feeling fine and hope that you are feeling fine too. I am in a cabin. It was raining the day we got here it rain the the next day to on July 6 we went on a all-day hike.

Your friend

Dear Mrs. Nugent,

How are you? I am having a fine time up here. We go moonlight swimming. The food is swell. Everything is fine. I am happy that you sent me up here, because it is a swell place. I like it very much. I feel sorry to get back to the city. Well! Goodby.

Dear Mrs. Nugent,

I am having a swell time. The food is very good and thanks for the polar shirt. Your friend.

Terrace Council Gets Off to Good Start

A BUDDING, but very busy organization of Terrace women has been set up for the purpose of coordinating and serving the numerous drives, campaigns and activities centering around the war effort. The organization is called London Terrace Council. It does not duplicate or supplant any of the work done by existing organizations, but aims to act as a clearing house for the many activities which are increasing as the war goes on.

One of the first of the Council's accomplishments is the Recreation Room for the use of service men, located in the 470 Building at the corner of Tenth Avenue and Twenty-fourth Street. Here games, books, music and a friendly atmosphere are offered the wandering sailor, soldier or marine. The Council also is handling the local fingerprint bureau, one of the many established around the city under the direction of Mayor LaGuardia. The Mayor took occasion to mention our bureau on one of his recent official broadcasts, saying that the Terrace was the only large apartment house in the city to establish one.

Other activities of the Council have been supervising a supplementary U. S. O. drive for funds held from July 7 to 11, as well as the successful Minute Man war bond campaign.

Right now the Council is acting through voluntary committees set up for each activity. In the fall, however, the ladies expect to elect

A.W.V.S. In Second Year

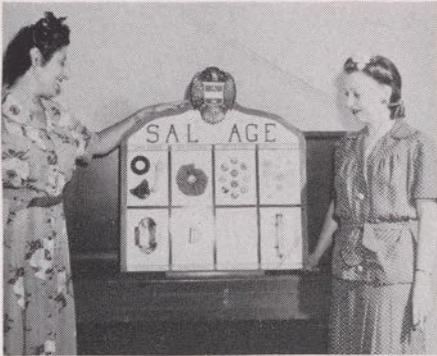

News from the Terrace Unit of A.W.V.S. is herewith reported faithfully by Marguerite H. Matthews, chairman of publicity.

APPROPRIATELY enough, the July 4th issue of the New Yorker devoted several pages to the A.W.V.S.; to its founder, Mrs. Alice Throckmorton McLean; to its aims and ambitions. I quote a very minute, but interesting excerpt: "The A.W.V.S. is, among other things, a voluntary training centre and voluntary employment agency combined; first the women get themselves trained for volunteer or community jobs and then volunteer to ferret out the jobs, etc., etc."

All of which, and more, has been and is being done by the women of the London Terrace Unit, which in July celebrated its first birthday. The Birthday Party was held on the evening of July 13th in the Studio of the 470 Building. Among the distinguished guests were Mrs. Edgar Leonard, president of the organization in Greater New York, Miss Rose Held, executive director of the A.W.V.S., and Alice Ruth Miller, organization director. Addresses were made by these prominent women—all of them complimenting the London Terrace Unit on the good work it has done and

Air Raid Wardens Well Organized

OUR Air Raid warning organization is neatly in the groove these days, clicking along with well-planned and executed efficiency. A goodly contingent took its place in the Chelsea at War parade on July 25th, making a smart appearance with the first wearing of the new helmets which have been issued to registered wardens throughout the city. A total of seventy-five Terrace wardens have completed their television course of instruction and the first aid training necessary to qualify as registered wardens.

Getting away from formal duties for one evening, there was an air raid warden party in the Restaurant Grill on Thursday, July 30. Business, speeches and fund raising were banned for the evening and about two hundred wardens and Terrace residents attended to have a good time and get better acquainted. The party was conceived and planned by William Heidorn, 410 captain, and Miss Emily Schwarz, deputy sector commander.

Dave Millar, former sector commander, who also was Terrace commander, has resigned both these posts to serve on the Mayor's committee on Air Raid Warden service. He is serving as 3d division deputy for Mr. R. B. Bradshaw. Mr. Bruce Grunden is now sector commander and Mr. Lockwood has appointed him Terrace commander as well.

During last month there was an official alert and mobilization drill here. The entire Terrace air raid warden staff moved smartly into positions and stood by until the all-clear signal was relayed.

The Dotted Firing Line

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Miss Forester again comes through this month with some red hot items from the Renting Office.)

THE Renting Office "Front" looks almost like a post headquarters some of these late warm summer afternoons. We have so many service men, and a few service "gals," that our Main Street tour of London Terrace takes on an international aspect.

You know we've been mixed up in this world struggle long enough for many return trippers to be coming back "home to London Terrace"—one chap got in this week after having been away seventeen months. The places he has been sound like a geography lesson. Another couple who consider London Terrace their home arrived from parts unknown, or at least "untold" this week and were ever so happy to meet up with good beds, clean linen and above all a real bathroom and honest-to-goodness kitchen.

There are, too, our home-comers among the former tenants who ventured into the suburbs two, three, and even four or five years ago. Yesterday three such applications came through almost at once.

You have heard something of our "regulars"—over a hundred who have been here since the opening. One lady I was talking to recently is a real old timer—Miss Miriam Scott—she lived at the old 425 (Mr. Green was the landlord then—and now we've become "White") for 19 years, and then London Terrace was conceived, so she moved across the street for a couple of years, and then back to 425, the first tenant to sleep in the new unit—and she is still there (and will be, I hope, for years to come).

There is a couple in 425 who almost arrived at the same time but Miss Scott's application was several months earlier, being taken while 425 was still a blueprint, and she actually did move in first too.

Have you thought of London Terrace for a summer resort? Lots of folks have—we have a couple now "on vacation" who were both born in N. Y. C. but are actually "seeing" New York now for the first time. They have a schedule, just like any tourists, seeing the shows, the parks, the museums, trying out the various hotels and restaurants, "doing the night clubs" and even have a trip up the Hudson on the Day Line on the schedule.

One dear lady is taking the rest cure at home—lolling about on the Marine Deck after a leisurely breakfast in her cool apartment, or reading in the garden, and once in a while a swim in the pool. She is one of the few who wishes to gain weight—and she has already put on four pounds!

London Terrace is proving more and more popular and we are "fresh out" of certain types of apartments—so if you haven't signed your lease yet (and there are some "slow pokes") better get on the "....."

Following that meet, several of the girls traveled north to compete in the Canadian championships at St. Adele, Quebec. Miss Sahner won both the 100 yards and 200 yards Freestyle championships, breaking the 200 yard Canadian record. Miss Callen also broke a Canadian record while winning the 100 yards Backstroke championship. Still another record fell by the wayside when Miss Sahner, Miss Callen and Lorraine Fischer took first place in the 150 yards medley relay.

August promises to be a busy month, starting off with an exhibition for the soldiers at Fort Jay, Governor's Island and a meet at New London, Conn. Beginning August 14th, at Neenah, Wis., the National Championships will be contested, and we'll look for top-notch reports on the W. S. A. girls from there.

No Can Do

Our doormen and elevator men are right on the job and anxious to please in any way they can, but there is one service often asked of them which they are not allowed to render. This is the acceptance of money or valuables to be left in their care.

In order to avoid all possible complications, it is a rule of the Terrace that doormen or elevator men shall not be given the responsibility of paying for COD packages and the like. If you are expecting a package, you can leave money and instructions with the Package Room and it will be taken care of when it arrives. Stores and shops can be instructed to make their deliveries to the Package Room.

The lads on the doors are obliging fellows and don't like to refuse a tenant, so to avoid embarrassment, residents should not ask them to accept responsibilities of this kind.

way around the store now and there are large signs to help you find just what you are looking for, plus the added attraction of seeing things you forgot to put on the list. A little hard on the pocket book if you don't watch your step as everything looks so interesting. The systematic shopper plans to stock up once or twice a week with heavy canned and bottled goods which are delivered for the small charge of ten cents. The big saving in prices as compared to those before serve-yourself days, more than makes up for this occasionally delivery cost.

Whelan Drug Store

is another sure to be cool place to shop, just the spot for the pause that refreshes at the fountain or tables. At the nearby counter you will find "Leg Make Up," the marvelous 1942 idea that provides stockings by means of liquid or cream lotions. Not everyone is used to the idea of going without stockings at all times but for life in our village, where sports clothes prevail, this new innovation is practical and suitable. If you are looking for something to take to your week-end hostess, consider the beauty kits, especially Elizabeth Arden's and the new Tweed combination of Sachet, Talcum and Cologne. Lelong has a new odor "Sirocco" and the quite new "Tailspin" is very popular. Sun tan lotions are still a must if you spend any time in the sun.

The Book Shop

where there is always a breeze, has enlarged its stock of paper necessities. Why not eat picnic style these hot nights—use attractive paper table mats and napkins and if you really want to get into the spirit of the great out-of-doors, go all the way, use wooden composition forks and spoons and disposable drinking cups. Another new item caught my eye, "Mending Tape," used by professional tailors for repairing a straight rip—too complicated to explain but it looks simple and practical. The Book Shop has a large assortment of cards for boys in the Service, birthday ones and others to send if you don't feel like writing a letter but want to let the boys at camp know you are thinking about them. There are writing kits to send them, too, so they will be inspired to answer your cards and letters. Don't forget the circulating library books—good company for a night at home or for a week-end away from home.

right in the building will do a rush job for you in the way of greeting to anyone that you want to get word to in a hurry. Telephone for a boy to come to your apartment or stop by the office in the 405 Building when you are in need of such service.

The Florist Shop

next door, looks, and is cool and has that back to nature atmosphere that we can't live without. Hard to keep fresh flowers in August but there are many green plants that thrive indoors. And if you need a pot to put them in, there are many in the shop and vases, too.

table in the dining room, has never looked lovelier. You have to hold the table cloths down while you eat—it's that breezy. Forget about your kitchen at least one night a week for the rest of the summer and let someone else worry about what to have for dinner, or lunch, for the expected or unexpected guest.

reminds you that washables are popular and practical and the house laundry is convenient and reasonable, so that should settle that question. They also asked me to mention that laundry bundles cannot be picked up after 3:00 P.M. so try to arrange your schedule so that the boy can call before the deadline hour.

The Valet

in keeping with that odd idea of thinking of fur coats in August, calls attention to the fact that expert furriers can be found in the store at 415 Main Street, ready to make last year's coat over or make up new skins into a style that suits you best. We are pretty likely to have to conserve with a vengeance for some time to come so better look over the rest of your wardrobe and see what can be made ready for those Fall days that will be here before we know it. And dry cleaning does do wonders for a tired piece of clothing so give it another chance by sending it to the Cleaners.

The Beauty Shop

can do a lot for that tired feeling, too. Hot weather can do much damage during a day or weekend at the shore. None of us like to sit under hot driers this time of the year but because of the weather, a short stay only is required as there is little danger of catching cold from a damp head or the drying can be continued up on the Marine Deck, a pleasant system used with success by many of our ladies. (P. S. Plenty of hot water at the Beauty Shop—all day.)

Excelsior and Longacre Garages

still can be useful members of our family in taking care of that almost obsolete thing known as an automobile. A few people can still make use of this means of conveyance and all the more reason why such precious pieces of property should be kept—and kept up—safely by experts.

The Radio Shop

is under new management but the same service continues. Keep your set in good working order these days when radios play such an important part in keeping us up to date with last minute news.

The Decorating Shop

and Lynwood Higgins are looking forward to busy days, helping new tenants with the job of getting the right draperies and furniture coverings. Veteran Terracers are urged to consult with

Mr. Higgins, if they have not discovered how helpful he can be with decorating problems.

means moving and we don't like to think of that if it means moving out of the Terrace. But we have had to get used to saying good-bye to a few neighbors, come September and October. So if you are about to leave us, remember that Chelsea has been in the business of packing and moving folks for many years and are highly recommended by the management.

Time for me to say good-bye—but only until next month—same time—same station.

sewing room is open Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2:00 to 4:30 P. M. In the evenings, many women who have been otherwise employed during the day, give their time and services to a most worthy cause. Many of the garments made by our women in the sewing room were given to the Chelsea Charities—57 garments, in fact, and 26 more were ready before the children began to leave for camp. In addition to the articles mentioned above, which were given to our local charities, 88 other garments were made and given to the Army and Navy Relief.

Material for clothes for children of needy families of men in the services is badly needed. Contributions of pieces of cloth, thread, buttons and other items needed for these articles of clothing may be sent to the Penthouse Club.

New classes are starting con-officers, draw up a set of by-laws and become a full-fledged official organization. Many applications for volunteer assignments have come already, and it is hoped that every Terrace woman will enroll on the lists for duty. Volunteers are particularly needed to help out in the Recreation Room. The committee in charge is composed of "Captains of the Day" and the seven ladies who make up this group are Mrs. Paul Blackburn, Mrs. John A. Cannon, Mrs. Carl L. Cleaver, Mrs. Robert Kelley, Mrs. Leon Reid, Mrs. Claude Rowles and Mrs. Ray Whittaker. One of these ladies is in charge each day, assisted by several "senior" and "junior" hostesses.

The fingerprint committee numbers as members Mrs. Donald McMaster, chairman; Mrs. Benjamin Rappaport; Mrs. Paul Blackburn; Mrs. Sidney Hall; Mrs. John Cannon; Mrs. W. L. Overton.

The working committee is composed of Mrs. Thomas A. Frankland; Mrs. M. M. Westerfield; Mrs. Horace G. Banker; Mrs. Donald McMaster; Mrs. Warner Overton.

Looks as though the Council has gotten off to a bang-up start, and, with the cooperation of all Terrace women, should do a worth-while, interesting job this fall and winter.

is the one that buys cooling, fragrant toiletries. Come in and choose from our fine selection of colognes and perfumes the fragrances to suit your varying summer moods — if it be the wistfulness the morning breeze inspires or the heady enchantment of star-studded summer nights.

MIDSUMMER GLADNESS

is yours the moment you sit at our Fountain and treat yourself to one of our taste-tantalizing sodas (made the Whelan-Way). Our handy refrigerator-tray package of Evangeline Ice Cream is ready and waiting for you to take along home when you leave . . . in three delicious assortments . . . Pint — Only 30c.

BUY WAR STAMPS

The item we are most happy to sell you — the item that has sales appeal and is its own sales talk — the item that we need not tell you to buy, only that we want you to buy here . . . because we want to feel proud that you are cooperating with us in this . . . our business . . . your business and everybody's business.
